Photographer/Videographer Practices and Policies

Photography (flashless ONLY) and videography should be as unobtrusive as possible so as to respect the dignity of the religious ceremony. Therefore, after the bride has walked down the aisle, photographers and videographers may station themselves one step in from the side doors and from the rear of the Chapel, no farther forward than the last five benches from the main entrance. Only one photographer and one videographer are allowed, together with one assistant, respectively. At no time during the ceremony may pictures be taken alongside the participants, nor from the Sanctuary or Vestry doorway, other than as outlined above from the side doors. The Officiant may have other restrictions.
